

BODOSAPIENS

AARON SEITZ piano

YANNIK TIEMANN bass

JO BEYER drums

Far from 'Survival of the Fittest', the three minds of the ever evolving Mr. bodosapiens are equally intriguing, equally intense, equally individual. Refusing to be categorised, Mr. bodosapiens prefers to be refreshingly new and different, yet will still occasionally honor his elders with a tight swing. His rule number one: interplay, communication. These three personalities, three voices, that can sound provocative, argumentative, or in complete accord, are always listening out for each other.

Aaron Seitz (p), Yannik Tiemann (b) and Jo Beyer (dr) are the three creative minds, from which Mr. bodosapiens was born, from which this exciting non-genre of the modern jazz trio stems.

WINNERS OF THE STUDYUP-AWARD 2013
WINNERS OF SPARDA JAZZ AWARD 2016 (1st Prize)

"(...) the equally fulminant and experimental piano trio Bodosapiens won for its infectious cultivation of feisty off-beats."

(Tom Bullmann, NOZ)

"(...) with the drummer, bass player and pianist performing on entirely equal footing, showing exceptional certainty and precision in their interplay whilst performing exclusively their own compositions."

(Klaus Terbrack, Journal of the Hochschule Osnabrück)

"[...] That's fresh and regardless but also highly professional Jazz. Really Great!"

(Uwe Plien, Rheinische Post)